In addition to our services, we provide two products aimed to residential and commercial construction; synthetic thatching to substitute the natural palm-tree roof or, to create new structures as a constructive and architectural element, that besides increasing the property's asset value, it offers category-3 hurricane's wind resistance, fire retardant (through a fire-proof agent inhibiting flame propagation), without color fading and a 20-year warranty, just to mention some of its benefits.

The second product we provide is water treatment plants as a desalinization solution, extended airing and containers in the water treatment and residual water process. Facing the national potable water supply system's collapse, it can be solved through the re-use of greywater and sewer water, as well as sea water desalinization, depending on the scope of the project, subjected to find the financing in this sector

We eagerly state our willingness to perform a project of utmost quality, complying with the objectives agreed upon.
